

Drowning In Hypocrisy (2017)

By Walt Wright

This small 8 x 10 acrylic painting is not meant to be cruel or an act of heresy, rather it is a strong message for the church. If you'll read Matthew chapter seven in your Bible you'll quickly realize the message the painting is meant to imply.

Under the Trump presidency America is becoming a nation of judgmental and harsh people. Instead of helping and loving one another I am seeing hatred toward Hispanics, Muslims, the LGBT community, and black Americans. How this has come to pass so quickly tells me the church is not doing what God has called us to do. The fact that the religious right helped to put Donald Trump into the white house suggest they are partly to blame. I normally do not paint political motivated images but this was inspired by the one who gave me my artistic gift. It is my prayer that the church gets the message, and soon!
