

Imagine Dragon (2019)

SUBTITLE: A dragon for Jenna

By Walt Wright

This small 6 x 6 acrylic painting is dedicated to an artist known only to me as “Jenna” an artist from the Deviant Art website. This whimsical dragon with the wings of a butterfly is otherworldly in its appearance. (It will no doubt be commonly called the butterfly dragon.) Jenna is/was a sculptor of small whimsical dragons. She suddenly stopped interacting on the Deviant Art website. Many posted comments and ask questions with no response. One artist told me that she thought the artist had a rare illness or something. For all I know she is no longer with us. Her playful little sculptures are inspiring and downright adorable. I have no doubt her art will survive the test of time and capture the hearts of all who see them.
